Dear Drew:

On behalf of the students in particular, I want to thank you once again for such an outstanding effort, both in preparation and presentation.

We had, after you left, a lively discussion and that is always a sign of an effective presentation. This course is all about learning to think like a lawyer when approaching work before administrative bodies. You have made a large contribution toward that goal and I hope we can persuade you to do the same next year.

Best regards,

Robert J. Abbey
